Hey Steve,
just wanted to let you know, my girlfriend works at a major convenience chain in Aurora CO, a matter of blocks from the theater. shes been telling me of men coming in and out of the store daily who look like military and when she speaks to them can identify traces of a Russian accent. She asked one if he spoke Russian and he laughed the laugh that said "i know something you don't know" then he sat outside for about 20 minutes staring at her and talking to his military looking friends. they all also shared a common tattoo that she was not able to identify but she felt that it was military related, like they were members of the same unit. She also had the ultra corrupt Aurora Police hold a private meeting in her store. even the manager was banned from it as they discussed whatever un-American nonsense they discussed. The term "we're gonna get the new equipment" was heard as they entered the meeting, most of the cops were under covers... and just recently a cop came in and she saw her name address, age, eye/hair color height, work schedule and social security number written down in his notebook and an incorrect height making her believe the cop himself was collecting the info, not pulling it from a server, and on a completely unrelated topic; she owns guns.

she and i are both wide awake, Hagmann and Alex listeners among others local activists and film-makers keep up the good fight Steve, V, Doug and Joe and on a personal note i know more than half of the people present at the theater shooting. 2 shooters, 1 helper holmes was in his car the whole time on halcyon or some such drug"they had shotguns" was the quote given to me more than once
